

YOU'RE SUPPORTING

Your contribution assures quality environmental education opportunities in a center that models green building technology and ensures future generations:

- High-quality nature programming for area schoolchildren and families;
- Programs that are inclusive to all demographic groups, thanks to scholarship initiatives; and
- Park stewardship activities in one of Duluth's largest and most heavily used parks.

BUILDING THE FUND

When it comes to the opportunities afforded future generations, there are few guarantees. The Hartley Nature Center Endowment Fund is an attempt at one such guarantee by striving to fund the nature center's programs in perpetuity. Just like other endowments, ours retains and invests monetary gifts and earnings from gifts of estate without spending the actual principal. Gifts of property, appreciated stock and other securities have the potential to contribute significantly to the continued support of Hartley Nature Center operations and programming.

"Terry and I love the thought of children and adults enjoying the natural world. Hartley Nature Center and its wonderful staff guide the way to exciting adventures, like following yellow-throated warblers flitting through the spring forest."

— HENRY AND TERRY ROBERTS

"Supporting Hartley Nature Center with its task to inform and teach has been our pleasure since the early days of its planning."

— BERNIE AND JEAN BOECKER

FORMS OF GIVING

- One-time Financial Contributions
- Planned Annual Giving
- Bequests and Honorariums

Recognition

The key to recognition is finding the form that best reflects the interests of the individual being honored. Recognition at Hartley Nature Center typically involves "naming" any of the following:

- Education-related Programs
- Intern Programs and Positions
- Speaker Series
- Physical Features
- Classrooms and Interior Spaces
- Endowed Chairs
- Outdoor Pavers
- Gardens

If you would like to discuss gifts to the Hartley Endowment Fund and specific means of recognition, please call 218.724.6735.

A memorial garden is a great way to honor a loved one.

HOW TO GIVE

"Nowhere else does my donated dollar go as far as it does at Hartley Nature Center."
